Internet

- You should access the Internet only for study or for school authorised/supervised activities.
- Only access suitable material - Using the Internet to obtain, download, send, print, display or otherwise transmit or gain access to materials which are unlawful, obscene or abusive is not permitted.
- Respect the work and ownership rights of people outside the school, as well as other students or staff. This includes abiding by copyright laws.
- 'Chat' activities take up valuable resources which could be used by others to benefit their studies, and you can never be sure who you are really talking to. For these reasons 'chat' rooms should be avoided.
- People you contact on the Internet are not always who they seem. Always ask a parent/guardian or teacher to go with you if you need to meet someone who you only know from the Internet or via email.

Equipment

- Damaging, disabling, or otherwise harming the operation of computers, or intentionally wasting resources puts your work at risk, and will cut short your time with the ICT equipment.
- Only use the computers for educational purposes. Activities such as buying or selling goods are inappropriate.
- Always check files brought in on removable media (such as floppy disks, CDs, flash drives etc.) with antivirus software and only use them if they are found to be clean of viruses.
- Protect the computers from spillages by eating or drinking well away from the ICT equipment.

Security and Privacy

- Protect your work by keeping your password to yourself; never use someone else's logon name or password.
- Always get permission before revealing your home address, telephone number, school name, or picture to people you meet on the Internet.
- Other computer users should be respected and should not be harassed, harmed, offended or insulted.
- To protect yourself and the systems, you should respect the security on the computers; attempting to bypass or alter the settings may put you or your work at risk.
- Computer storage areas and floppy disks will be treated like school lockers. Staff may review your files and communications to ensure that you are using the system responsibly.
