The Norwood Voice

September 2019

Meet the Team.

The Norwood Voice.

Profile of all our journalist.

The Norwood Voice.

September 2019

ISSUE 001

SPORT

Chelsea’s Bad Manners.

Oscar Roche & Xavier Gonzales

OPINION

Lend with Care.

The future of charity.

Eliza Neave

 Importance of gender equality.

Celeste Roberts-Watts

ANIMAL CRUELTY

Bhuma Keith-Jopp

FASHION:

Fashion. The latest fashion is often sought after. Chelsea’s style is often sought after. By Deborah Hays.

INNOVATION

Mr Gable

CREED & JUSTICE

Can Croydon’s Youth Zone stop gang violence?

Sunnah-Gaye Cardoshe-Sanches

BACK PAGE

Football.

Chelseas bad manners.

A true story reveals shocking pictures.

Front Page.

Page 2 & 3.

Page 4.

THE BIG ISSUE.

The Future of Farming.

Social Media.

It's Complicated. Our Relationship with Social Media

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media is a powerful tool.

A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.

Social Media.

It’s a complicated relationship:

Lola Richards

What is Social Media?

Social Media is a world-wide communication system that globally and instantly connects and engages people for far distances. On social media, you can create “accounts” where you can choose to share your personal identification. This information is shared with others when they visit your ‘page’ or ‘profile’.

Social Media is great at building relationships between different systems of society. It can help support businesses. Social Media is also a way to build online communities, bring people together, and encourage shared understanding.

Social Media – The Bug! A social media ‘bug’ which differentiates itself as an attack on the democracy system, that happens with truthfulness, which help Fake News spread and grow.

Nobel Peace Prize laureates use Social Media to shape the future of human rights, to shape the future of the world.

Insects are cheaper, easier to farm and space than cattle, pigs and chickens.